

INDEX

- Absenteeism, 80–81
- Adaptability, 17
- Adaptive leaders, 74
- Adaptive phase, 73–74
- Adjustment, 19
- Administrative work, 62
- American Psychological Association (APA), 20
- Attributes of resilience, 53–55
- Awareness of others, 29
- Biopsychospiritual homeostasis, 18
- Budgets, 62
- Calm, 83
- Caring for people, 84
- Challenge model, 16–18
- Change, 10, 17
- Classic stage of resilience, 14
- Cognitive flexibility, 87
- Commitment to values, 89
- Common sense, 24
- Communication, 91
- Community, 82
- Compensatory model, 16–17
- Conformity, 8–9
- Constant vigilance, 57–58
- Consultation, 90–91
- Contagion theory, 32
- Cooperation, 91
- Coping, 19–20
- COVID-19 pandemic, 74
 - generating resilience in times of crisis, 82–84
 - and principals' need for resilience, 76–82
 - questions, 84
 - unique challenges, 74–76
- Creativity, 87
- Delayed response as resilience
 - practice of principals, 50–53
- Detachment, 92
- Deterioration, 19
- Developing identity, 28
- Distance-learning digital platforms, 77
- Educational identity, 88–89
- Educational reforms, 2
- Effective leadership, 28
- 80/20 law, 40
- Emergency phase, 73–74
- Emotional code, 26–27
- Emotional dimension, 87–88
- Emotional experiences, 25
- Emotional intelligence, 28
- Emotions, 24–25, 83
- Empathy, 29, 88
- Equality, 6–7
- Ethical dimension, 88–90
- Family, 82
- Flexibility, 28–29
- Flexible thinking, 87
- Focus, 28–29
- Focusing, 93
- Google Classroom, 77
- Growth, 19
- Haven, 83
- Help seeking, 91
- Hierarchy, 6–7

- Holocaust survivors, 14
- Hope, 22, 45
- Humane action, 6
- Identity, 36
- Individualism, 9
- Initiative, 7–8, 28–29
- Internal resilience, 14
- Leadership, 73
- Loyalty, 89
- Mental dimension, 93
- Mental resilience, 20
- Microsoft Teams, 77
- Mindfulness, 29
- Moral compass, 88–89
- Natural/life-science stage of
 - resilience, 14
- Neuroplasticity, 47
- Nutrition, 92
- Optimism, 28–29, 45, 93
- Optimistic thinking as principals’
 - resilience practice, 45–48
- Organizational skills, 28–29
- Pareto principle, 40
- Pareto’s law, 40
- Personal counseling, 90–91
- Personal resilience, 82
- Personal Resilience Questionnaire (PRQ), 20
- Perspective, 42, 45, 93
- Physical activity, 49, 92
- Physical resilience, 50
- Physical vitality as resilience
 - practice of principals, 49–50
- Physiological dimension, 91–92
- “Positive psychology” theories, 15–16
- Positive thinking, 87, 93
- Practices of resilience, 53–55
- Presence, 82–83
- Principals, 84
 - resilience, 24
 - work, 40–41
- Private self, 82
- Professional educational identity as
 - significant component of principals’ resilience, 36–38
- Professional identity, 36
- Proportion, 42–45
- Protective model, 16–17
- Psychiatry, 15
- Psychology, 14–15
- Qualities of resilience, 14
- Realistic optimism, 48, 83
- Realistic pessimism, 48
- Recovery, 19
- Renewed flexible integration, 18
- Resilience, 10–11, 13, 15, 17, 28, 85
 - models, 17–20
 - and principal’s emotional work, 26–27
 - and principal’s emotional world, 24–25
 - school leadership and, 27–29
 - study of, 14
 - US resilient, 20–22
- Resilience architecture
 - being rejected by staff, 63–64
 - constant vigilance, 57–58
 - job, 58–59
 - key players, 61–62
 - lack of administrative knowledge, 62–63
 - questions, 71
 - resilience-building forces, 64–69
 - resilience-undermining forces, 59–64
 - sense of stress, 60–61

- Resilience muscles
 - ability to focus principals' resilience practice, 40–42
 - delayed response as resilience practice of principals, 50–53
 - developing, 35–36
 - dynamics between attributes of resilience and practices of resilience, 53–54
 - optimistic thinking as principals' resilience practice, 45–48
 - perspective and proportion as principals' resilience practices, 42–45
 - physical vitality as resilience practice of principals, 49–50
 - professional educational identity as significant component of principals' resilience, 36–38
 - questions, 55
 - sense of meaning and mission as principals' resilience practice, 38–40
- Resilience-building forces, 64–69
 - growth caused by biographical events, 64–65
 - indirect support from students, 68–69
 - successes, 65–66
 - supportive environment, 66–68
- Resilience-undermining forces, 59–64
- Resilient leaders
 - conformity and self-direction, 8–9
 - equality and hierarchy, 6–7
 - humane action vs. task orientation, 6
 - initiative and stability, 7–8
 - orchestra of contradictions and conflicts, 2–3
 - principal sneezes, 1–2
 - purchasing desks, 4–6
 - questions, 11
 - super-role, 4
 - teamwork vs. individualism, 9
 - tightrope walker, 3
 - time for resilience, 10–11
- School leadership
 - importance of integrating components of resilience into school management, 29–30
 - impact of leadership and resilience on school environment, 30–32
 - questions, 32–33
 - and resilience, 27–29
- School management, 25
- Schools, 24
- Self-awareness, 29
- Self-care, 82
- Self-direction, 8–9
- Self-regulation, 87–88
 - skills, 22
- Sense of meaning and mission as principals' resilience practice, 38–40
- Sense of self-efficacy, 88
- Sleep, 91–92
- Social contagion, 32
- Social dimension, 90–91
- Social science stage of resilience, 14–15
- Social support, 66
- Stability, 7–8, 83
- Staff fatigue, 79
- Support, 91
- Task orientation, 6
- Teamwork, 9
- Tightrope walker, 3

- Time for resilience,
 - 10–11
- Tolerance toward others' values,
 - 89–90
- Unrealistic optimism, 48
- Unrealistic pessimism,
 - 48
- Visibility, 82–83
- Vision and goals, 89
- Wolff Law, 35–36
- Work, 82
- Zoom, 77
 - fatigue, 79